

Online Stewardship Resources

Christian Stewardship Network. Web Address: <http://www.christianstewardshipnetwork.com/>

The Christian Stewardship Network is a Christ-based website for anyone engaged in stewardship training. A complimentary newsletter is available.

Crosswalk. Web address: <http://www.crosswalk.com/finances/>

Crosswalk is a Christ-based composite website. Its financial section offers a variety of strategies for spending and planning for the future, including stewardship training for newlyweds.

Crown Financial Ministries. Web address: <http://www.crown.org/>

Long recognized for advocating Christ-based stewardship strategies, Crown Ministries offers a variety of educational materials and strategies for better money management based on Christian stewardship strategies, including advice for singles. Crown educational programs, especially Money Matters, are highly recognized for anyone striving to attain greater levels of personal stewardship.

Dave Ramsey. Ramsey Web Address: <http://www.daveramsey.com/>

Dave Ramsey offers one of the most comprehensive, Christ-based websites for anyone interested in becoming a better steward of God's gifts. The Ramsey website offers educational stewardship programs for all ages, enabling one to complete his well-known Financial Peace University course online, which focuses on debt-free living. Ramsey's radio broadcasts are available on his website, as are free newsletters, credit management, and a host of other issues. Dave Ramsey's website is highly recommended for anyone who wishes to better select strategies for retirement, develop better money management techniques, or plan a more informed, cost-effective insurance program.

Good Sense Ministry. Web address: <http://www.goodsenseministry.com/>

Sponsored by the Willow Creek Association (BCC is a member), this website offers opportunities to learn about debt-free living, including Christian stewardship.

Kiplinger. Web Address: <http://www.kiplinger.com/>

Although Kiplinger is not a Christian website, it is a composite website encompassing many personal financial components. Kiplinger offers sound advice on insurance, investments, including strategies for retirement. Kiplinger is an excellent website for gaining insights to incorporate in one's stewardship plan.

Smart Money. Web address: <http://www.smartmoney.com/?hpadref=1>

Produced by the Wall Street Journal, Smart Money offers online tips for investing and spending. Smart Money is not a Christ-centered website, yet it offers a good deal of practical, informative advice for anyone earning and spending money.

Money-CNN. Web address: <http://money.cnn.com/>

This website is offered by CNN and Money Magazine. This website offers a variety of current information about the economy in general and personal finance in particular.

Finance & Job Search Resources

Bettendorf Christian Church

Financial Coaching – one-on-one, confidential and comprehensive assistance offering short-term and long-term solutions to financial security. Contact Lori at (563) 355-0124, lori@bettendorfchristian.org, to be put in touch with trained and experienced financial coaches at BCC.

Free-up Financial Living – a six-session course offered at BCC beginning in the fall (2009) from the Good Sense Ministry of the Willow Creek Association. Contact Lori at (563) 355-0124, lori@bettendorfchristian.org, to reserve your place in this free course that provides tangible help in applying Biblical principles for financial management.

Seminars: “Developing a Killer Resume” and “Strategies for a Job Search” (including the Occupational Outlook Handbook)
Contact Marty or Roberta H. at (309) 781-7985, 367bobbi@gmail.com.

Black Hawk College

<http://il-blackhawk2.civicplus.com/index.aspx?NID=358>

Job Net – offers career counseling and meets every Monday morning, 9-11 a.m., at the IATC (west of Southpark Mall).

Career Services Center – offers an extensive array of tests and counseling at the main campus, 6600 34 Avenue, Moline, IL. These services are without cost to anyone in the Quad City area.

Discover – a diagnostic tool used to identify which career areas are best fitted to one's personality and interests. Contact at coordinator Sandy Sullivan at (309) 796-5626.