

Campus Christian Fellowship is a campus ministry currently serving Christ on the campuses of Iowa State and the University of Iowa.

Our mission is to be a Bible-based, prayer focused, compassionate Christian community that empowers college students to grow spiritually and experience a lifetime of love and service to God.

What do we do? Well, lots of things. And much of it changes every year. The things that you will find year in and year out include: Discipleship of students, large group Bible studies, small group Bible studies, mission trips, worship times, retreats, and community service. Our desire is to equip students so that they will continue to effectively serve Christ wherever they land after their college years.

Where are we located? Our Iowa State office is at 2337 Lincoln Way and our Iowa City one is at 325 E Washington. These provide office space, a hang out place for students and a nice place for small groups and worship.

Let me introduce our campus ministers. Roger Charley serves as the director of CCF and one of the campus ministers at UI. He has been in campus ministry for over 20 years and is now in his fourth year at Iowa. Adam Thomas is one of our alums and is also serving on the Iowa campus. Adam is also in his fourth year after serving one year as an intern. Eric Bryant has been with CCF at Iowa State for the past two years. Eric came to us with experience as a student and as an intern from campus ministries in Kentucky, Indiana and Ohio. Jaime Woodburn is sort of the newbie of the group. She just started this fall as women's minister at the ISU campus. She comes with lots of CCF experience as she was a student, an intern and a part time secretary of CCF in the past.

Please pray for us to effectively reach out to the Iowa campuses. Pray for us to richly show Iowa college students the love that our Savior has for them.
